

Partnering with NREL to address the challenge of integrating renewable energy to the electric grid

A partnership, including OMNETRIC Group, CPS Energy, Duke Energy, the University of Texas San Antonio and Siemens, designed a power distribution platform that enables the grid to better respond to changing conditions.

